Description

The Triton XP from Corally delivers a durable, and exciting alternative to other basher vehicles. First and foremost, it's designed in Europe from the ground up to withstand extraordinary levels of bashing abuse. This entry-level vehicle is targeted toward intermediate and experienced bashers, with an outstanding list of standard features. Complete ball-bearings, slipper clutch, water-resistant receiver box, high torque steering servo, Hobbywing-made ESC and more just begins to tell the story. More significantly, the Triton XP drivetrain features steel driveshafts, steel axles, and precision steel gears as standard equipment. No plastic driveshafts here...which means it can withstand the prodigious amounts of 2S or 3S brushless power.
